This paper is a discussion of the future of emergency response, and one of the causes of that future, specifically the impact of technology on the future. A collective wisdom approach to building this discussion was taken. The purpose of this approach is to build an understanding of the impact of technology by understanding the impact of technology on people, and then building an understanding of how people adapt to changes in their environment. The first part of the paper concentrates on the ways technology impacts people, and some of the effects of these ways of living on society. The second part of the paper discusses what is meant by technology and how technology impacts people. The second half of the paper discusses the possible impact of changes in technology on the future of emergency response. The paper concludes with suggestions for future developments in emergency response.It's here, b7e8fd5c8
